

FanFic

Note: This takes place during season four when Angel was off somewhere not being evil.

It was morning and Buffy Summers was admiring herself in the mirror after having just taken a shower. "Damn girl," Buffy thought, tweaking one of her pert nipples, "you look good." Buffy's hand rubbed against her nipple, while the other one started to play with her clit. But, no, Buffy was already late; she had a plane to catch. "Damn, I miss Angel," she said out loud as she finished packing and getting dressed.

The trip through the airport was uneventful. Buffy was a little worried because she had to pack her stakes, but there was no way they were going to let her take them as carry on. Giles tried to reassure her before takeoff that it was highly unlikely that vampires would travel by airplane, especially during the day.

Buffy had a window seat with Xander and Willow to her left. They talked a little bit about why they were flying to Mount Laurel, New Jersey. Apparently Giles' associates have discovered that a Hellmouth opened there recently and they feel it may be possible to close it before it becomes entrenched. Willow said that they have a good library there, and that should be a help as well.

Then the movie came on, but it was "The Adventures of Pluto Nash," so Buffy occupied herself by staring at the clouds out the window. Her thoughts turned to Angel and she wondered what he was doing right now.

The plane soon landed and the Scooby gang found themselves in Mount Laurel. The ride from the airport to Mount Laurel was also uneventful, but Buffy felt the other shoe might drop at any moment.

They arrived, got out of the van, and then Buffy saw a couple of groups of strangers in the distance. Wondering who they were, Buffy and the gang started toward them.

The Others
